If I could show you how I feel,
I'd hear sweet heaven sing your song
But I watch you from afar,
And my luck keeps dragging on

Well your eyes keep me up all night,
You know they're stranded on my mind
I want to get to love you,
One kiss at a time

But you don't see
You don't see it
You don't know
You don't feel it
You don't come
You don't suffer
You don't fall like the rain
Love has so many faces
And I wonder what my place is
Before you get to love me
A few hearts have got to break

Wish I could set your nights on fire,
Wish the passion there weren't wrong
Everybody loves you,
And I've strung my heart along

I can't wait forever
I can't break my heart like that
So why not call me in
Off your worn out welcome mat

Chorus
