

The Ejected "Russians"

Russians in the collages we taught them all they know
Russians in administrative that we didn't know
Russians in the government
Russians in England selling plans to Moscow
I spy with my little eye there goes another Russian spy
Where's your national pride?
Russians in the bedroom in a room next door
Russians in the attic or underneath the floor
Russians in the garbage standing in shit
Russians on the phone when the phone bills ring.
I spy with my little eye there goes another Russian spy
I spy with my little eye where's your national pride?
Russians in Afghanistan, Rebels watching 'em.
Russians keep on attacking, they won't win
Rebel's got missiles, Russia's got more
Given the chance, they'll start a bloody war.
I spy with my little eye there goes another Russian spy
I spy with my little eye where's your national pride?
