In this world that we live in
So filled with blind indifference
We have a chance to change it (change it)
We have a chance to make it right
Is this a generation of selfish contaminating love
We have a chance to change it (change it)
We have a chance to make this right
Where's the love & unity
This is my testimony

We are brothers & sisters
Regardless of what you believe
We pave the way for our children & the rest of humanity
How can we in our consciousness avert our minds
From the suffering of human life that's helpless
Loveless
Hopeless
Fed by our apathy, it's fed by our apathy

Our life is wasted
So lost & complacent
Inside our minds
Inside your life, your life, your life

Wage war upon the heartless with strength of love
This is my testimony
Give back to those who have given to you
This is my testimony

Our life is wasted
So lost & complacent
Inside (inside) our minds
Inside (inside) your life (your life)

I still believe in hope for our tomorrow
And I still believe in the strength & in the power of love
Your life
Our life
Is my life
This is my testimony

This is my testimony
