I comprehend that there's a danger
That you might misapprehend the way things are
You look to me like you're a stranger
Perhaps you've come here from afar

I've been down here for oh-so-many years
I scarcely know this now, the things they do
But my advice is that you go back home
You're much too beautiful
They're bound to ruin you

You better run we're watching watching
You better duck we're waiting waiting we're waitin' for
you
Our lives are cold
Little man, how'd you get in, get in?
You're gonna die, we're wondering, wondering,
wondering more about you
Our lives unfold
You better run we're watching watching
You better duck we're waiting waiting we're waiting for
you
Our lives are cold

Please please
I don't think this world is right
Take me
Take me back to space tonight
Please please
Stuck enough that I'm afraid
Take me somewhere, take me somewhere I'll be safe

You better run we're watching watching
You better duck we're waiting waiting we're waitin' for
you
Lives are cold
Little man, how'd you get in, get in?
You're gonna die, we're wondering, wondering,
wondering more about you
Lives unfold
[x2]

Please please
I don't think this world is right
Take me, take me back to space tonight
Please please
Stuck enough that I'm afraid
Take me somewhere, take me somewhere I'll be saved

I've been down here for oh-so-many years
I scarcely notice now
The things they do
But my advice is that you go back home
You're much too beautiful
They're bound to ruin you

Please please
I don't think this world is right
Take me, take me back to space tonight
Please please
Stuck enough that I'm afraid
Take me somewhere I'll be safe

Please please
I don't think this world is right
Take me, take me back to space tonight
Please please
Stuck enough that I'm afraid
Take me somewhere where I can be saved
