Don't tern around, don't you smile
Well I closed the door on the sunshine
Well it's a dream, go back to sleep
The blood on my hands ain't all mine

The inches I took turned to miles
What lord has taken the body
It's pushing down, feet leave the ground
Just wave goodbye, say you're sorry
I'm sorry for you

Don't you don't know where I've been
Look now cause I moving my fingers
Some things change
Some things linger on, linger

Day after day and every night
I've sharpened this blood 'til it's screaming
It's just the pain
The only one that still remains
I hear the words of my mother

Time just keeps rolling by
Like sand through your toes at the ocean
Wash away, the lifetimes and the days
Just wave goodbye, say you're sorry
I'm sorry for you
