Don't want to repeat situations
Keeping moving in a forward motion
I want to relieve complications
Remove this temporal devotion

So I talked..
And we talked
And she talked
And we talked

I guess I'm hoping for a rainfall (coming down)
I guess I wanna feel like something's really changed
Cause when everything reverses
And you trust those that aren't there
And you feel confused and hollow
But you swear that you don't care
But you do

An open ended conversation
Let's let time just work this out
I'll leave an open invitation
To come back into my life

So I walk
But she stays
So I walk
And she fades away
