The Faulty
"Take Everything Back"

every time I open up my eyes the innocence and purity goes and I wake up every day blind the innocence and purity is gone you shouldn't say anything, not a word, I feel no pain I'm jumping out of windows screaming "finally!" the clouds are at my fingers tips the sun within reach I feel the heat before I hit I ground forget me, forget my face, forgive me, and take everything before it takes you, before it craves you... before it takes you, remember, to take everything back

the innocence and purity was gone
