Struggling with confusion,
Disillusion into...
Turn a man into his shadow,
Crying out for help.

Between his nightmare visions
He sees nothing, only words.
Man with a beggar's mind is but a stranger,
He's been a stranger to himself.

Suspended on a rope
Inside a bucket down a hole.
Hands are torn and bloody
From the scratching at his soul.

Behind his nightmare visions
He sees nothing, only words.

Man with a beggar's mind is but a stranger,
He's been a stranger to himself.

Between his nightmare visions
He sees nothing, only words.
Man with a beggar's mind is but a stranger,
He's been a stranger to himself
