Under a blanket in my apartment with no heat cause Iâ€™m still broke she thinks thatâ€™s a good thing she says it keeps me real and grounded and hungry for something better she says I donâ€™t sit around and wait for things to happen but she doesnâ€™t see me when sheâ€™s not around me my head in my hands her eyes in my head specks of green light and yellow like the sun the sun comes through the window and hits my face this last night fades away from me â€œweâ€™re dying togetherâ€¦ Iâ€™ll love you foreverâ€ she said sheâ€™s leaving today sheâ€™s going away
