She's got that long blond hair and blue, blue eyes
She wears a school girl skirt that comes up to her thighs
They play her on the radio every chance they get
So I bought her new CD and I have no regret
I fantasize about her because she is so fine
I fantasize about her, but she never will be mine

[Chorus:]

She's a corporation creation, I knew it all along Corporation creation, singing someone else's song Corporation creation, I knew it all along Corporation creation [3x]

All the boys and girls wish they had her body
But it was the air brush artist who made her such a hottie
I bought my Britney lunch box, complete with Britney thermos
And on my Britney napkin she shows off her epidermis
Isn't she so great she fulfills all of our dreams
But it doesn't really matter, cause she isn't what she seems.
