Got a perfect view from here in the voyage window room Blue planet, sleeping beauty, the place that we call home From here you can detect no borders, to me it looks the same One world, one unit under the sun

Let's leave it, don't get closer I fear what we might find up from here it looks so peaceful from the innocent blue sky

There's a view of constant beauty that time and man can't change Just mind to keep the distance now and your impressions will remain You want to keep the dream forever you never wanna leave I wish that everyone could see and feel the way I feel.

The more you look, the more you try the more you free the inner eye There's a mountain we could climb

Got a perfect view from here, from a window in the sky
you ain't going nowhere now, you want but cannot fly Sometimes it feels like God has left us, but you never can be sure You're stuck with us and your dreams inside revolving (hotel) doors
