I'll never know
Why sunbeams are warm
I can't explain the Rainbow and the storm

Don't ask my why
My love is so warm
I'll never know

I'll never know what
Mountains are for
I'll never know what
Makes the ocean roar

I only know it's you I adore
That's all I know

I can't be sure that
The world or the stars
In the sky will endure
But that can't worry me

For I am sure that our love
Is a flame that will burn and
Endure throughout all eternity

I'll never know why
Trees grow so tall
I'll never know why
Autumn leaves must fall

I only know I love you, that's all
But that's one thing I know
