i'm hypnotized
by the glow of electric sex in my eyes searching for communication always ends in masturbation childhood gone without a trace once tan skin turns to paste i'm tranquilized by the whole world in my sight haven't seen daylight in so long too much time so far gone maybe i'll go to hell one click sheds my earthly shell keep on browsing

keep on searching kid

i'm pacified
i feel so secure inside carpal tunnel claims my hand now that life seems so bland thoughts slip into the abyss it is only for sleep i wish
