I'm waiting---for the day you stumble home
You're changing---You make me feel I've grown too old
One day you'll follow...soon you'll cry the day we do
It's been so long since we began to drop away
But you just keep on feeling alone.
I'm wasted---I haven't eaten in so long
But use me because I like when you're not home
We ain't got no problems...you're too fat to go much more
Go home and cry some more. you've sucked your life away
And you just keep on feeling alone
-----we don't mind, you're gone-----
I'm wasted---I've been to places I don't know We're changing---don't fucking lie to me no more Imitate your problems...your stupid ways have gone to far
It's been so long, I can't remember who you are Now you just keep on feeling alone
