This is the story of a land that you won't find on human maps

This place lies beside a lake of whispers unsaid
In a valley of panic and fear, creating something different

That other people can barely see and feel

There was a queen,
She was always smiling to her crowd
There was a queen
And her king

With all the struggles to set it free, the pestilence and all that shit

The efforts that we made, we fed them with lies
All that we fought for has gone, the world set fire and now we're torn

You walked away from me without saying goodbye

This is the end, all that we've been through

It makes no sense
Oh no

Cause wounds will heal but scars are forever
Yeah we both know we were complete together
And even if this 8/4 you won't look back
I don't feel these words like a monologue
Oh Lord I'm the one to blame

No loving hand can wash away the rust, the regrets of my mistakes

I just cry for your attention I look for some rest
Do you remember the time when we used to kiss beneath the trees

Those were the days when we both felt safe and pure

I just love you, there is no other way I can explain
I just love you
I do

Cause wounds will heal but scars are forever

Yeah we both know we were complete together
And even if this 8/4 you won't look back
I don't feel these words like a monologue
Oh Lord I'm the one to blame

(There was a queen who loved to make plans and take care of me)

Cause wounds will heal but scars are forever
Yeah we both know we were complete together my dear
And even if this 8/4 you won't look back
I don't feel these words like a monologue
Oh Lord I'm the one to blame

This was the story of a land
That you can find where dreams take rest
The king my Lord is dead
Waiting for his queen
