Sitting in red
or in white side
because today
all come back

Follow the red road
in the sky
you're really alone
with no more chances

Last light catch me up
humble moon drinks with myself stars let the bright outside descending on waterfalls
don't shuffle life and death

Feeling the night time
at your side
you look arround
your last star shine

Old stories ind your mind you try to cry
with no more eyer

descending on waterfalls
sidefaced trees
in purple sky
growing forever
dig my pain
you need more time
for shading my eyes
