Back before the days, back before the water
The invisible waves slammed the primal notion They said you were wrong, though you had connected These watery songs cleverly perfected

Chorus:

Dispensary of predictable mind like a new leaf, from the old days unfolding now the most ridiculous mind like a new leaf in the old ways

These slippery shoes never fit the sailor all scattered and bruised since it left the railing it wouldn't behave, bad at problem solving so it couldn't be saved, all these things revolving
Chorus

The invisible waves slapped the primal notion they wouldn't behave, bad at problem solving
so it couldn't be saved, all these things revolving
