You could start living
In my eyes too long
Anywhere, all and ever to no one

And they say there's a tiny kingdom
Not too far away
And they rate all the plastering
And watch it melt away

Stupid start
You could sell it for ten stone
Never mind, war became the sun

And they say there's a tiny kingdom
Not too far away
And they rate all the plastering
And watch it melt away

You could start
Living in my eyes to long

And they say there's a tiny kingdom
Not too far away
And they rate all the plastering
And watch it melt away

And they say there's a tiny kingdom
Not too far away
And they rate all the plastering
And watch it melt away

And they say there's a tiny kingdom
Not too far away
And they rate all the plastering
And watch it melt away
