

The Generationals

"Carrying The Torch"

Visit "Carrying The Torch" on MotoLyrics.com

Someone said last night it will be if it's meant to be Sounded so much easier than giving any effort
You shouldn't write those things to me
I know you're only gonna keep me up at night
Staring at the window waiting for the months to go by

I would do it if you asked me to
'Cause I'm still carrying the torch for you

I really wouldn't say it if I've been looking high and low
Make a move in a new direction
I really don't think that you could make it any better
It doesn't have a place to go
And it got worse
And I got lost in the disconnection

I would do it if you asked me to
'Cause I'm still carrying the torch for you

And if you can't say what you've been going through
You could get rusted and you could be the next to go
If you can't forget it you gotta learn to cover it up
It's what the best ones do

Someone said last night it will be if it's meant to be
The voices in your head you gotta keep it to yourself
I know you're not talking to me but it takes so long I don't wanna be
Staring at the window waiting for the months to go by

I would do it if you asked me to
'Cause I'm still carrying the torch for you

Visit The Generationals page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.