White stains on your sheets
The smell of stale perfume
The night takes you away oh so soon
But you still walk through that door
You do not know what you're in for

Coming through your window
You're coming home tonight
Last time, last time you would Come on after
When silence becomes permanent
Within my lonely light, She said

What is left to come
WHat is going wrong
Fill the silence after fun
'Cause they're needed badly x 2

Your fingers start to shake
From the pressure that you make
The rhythm in your chest is leaving you
But you still walk through that door
You do not know what you're in for

Coming through your window
You're coming home tonight
Last time Last time you would, come on after
When silence becomes permanent
Within my lonely light, She said

What is left to come
WHat is going wrong
Fill the silence after fun
'Cause they're needed badly x 4

'Cause they're needed badly x 4
