Calling yourself a romantic
Let me explain
Been across the whole Atlantic
And back again
I had it with your antics
Your childish games
Baby
I call your number twice
But it rang and rang
Against my best friends advice
I should be ashamed
(You) Did it to me once
You'll do it again
So she says

Love long distance
Is testing me trying my patients
I need more of your assistance now(2x)

I heard it through the bass line
Not much longer would you be my baby

You work yourself into a panic
Bent outta shape
And then take me for granted
Like nothings changed
All my friends are asking
Why you're that way
But I can't explain
Why I call your number twice
But it rang and rang
Against my best friends advice
I should be ashamed
You did it to me once
You'll do it again
She promises

Love long distance
Is testing me trying my patients
I need more of your assistance now
You're making me crazy
The way that you've been acting lately

I need more of your assistance now

Breaking Up or Breaking Down

When I need you, you can't be found

I want someone who's around for me

Does it have to be so complicated?

Either way I'm devastated

I could use a little comforting

Love long distance

Is testing me trying my patients

I need more of your assistance now

Love, love, love, love

I need some assistance now

(And) I will Thank you for your cooperation(3x)

Stop playing with me
