What would you do if everything you thought to be true was just a lie
And the reasons why were as vague as the sky?
What would you do if everybody you thought that you knew turned out a fraud?
Just turn a cold shoulder to your god

Iâ€™ll be okay
No thanks to you and the dirty things that you do

How could it be Iâ€™ve been deceived by the only one I want to believe?
I sit and grieve for the ones who bereave
How could it be I failed to see that I hold the key to right
the wrong
Since Iâ€™ve known itâ€™s been there all along?

Iâ€™ll be okay
No thanks to you and the dirty things that you do

I refuse to beat up on you
I have done those dirty things too
When confronting issues of trust
Leave all deceivers in the dust Believe in yourself and youâ€™ll find that the strength is in you
