You... You better watch your mouth this time
Cuz words are deceiving and you just crossed the line
So how does your foot taste?
It takes time to learn you're not invincible and humans are fallible

Warning: Your self-destruction's forming
Stay on that track
You can't look back
Stop dwelling in the past

Your guilty conscience holds you down Restrains you and keeps you and knocks you to the ground
So pay no attention
You can tell that goddamn cricket, "Take your help then go and fuck yourself..."

Warning: Your self-destruction's forming
Stay on that track
You can't look back
Stop dwelling in the past

Once you face the truth
Things are bound to get better for you
If you look ahead and live with no regrets

Should you fall... Do not fret... No regrets... Face the truth
Live and learn that you're human too

I don't know why you'd throw your life away
Cut yourself off and watch yourself decay
So pay close attention
It's not hard to learn what you can't seem to get...
To live without regret

If fear consumes you
Things are bound to get better for you
If you look ahead and live with no regrets

No regrets
