"Gone"

Gone is a four letter word and your gone with nothing to string me along The weight of a joke can be strong but what can I say I was wrong
Just a five letter word but so strong somebody sing me a song
And make every note weigh a ton to bury me down till I'm gone

Cause these words they don't mean a thing cause I learned It's all just a wonderful scheme designed to confuse you and me
A beautiful dream indeed but we a two letter word but surely A meaning that most of us see so why do we need to believe

I'm just wondering what do you think
I'm just asking what do you mean
Cause I been using political means
To stay on the scene see what you mean
I'm just dancing into your dream I wanna believe

When we were young a story was gold and the lines were more than paper and fold But the professor he told me it so deconstructing every word complaining it's all just Absurd well how do we know what he means if it's all just a beautiful dream

I'm just wondering what do you think
I'm just asking what do you mean
Cause I been using political means
To stay on the scene see what you mean
I'm just dancing into your dream I wanna believe

It's all just a beautiful lie so take it in stride
And if there's nothing to say why can't we wait
It's all just a beautiful lie so take it in stride
And if there's nothing to say why can't we wait

My words are broken on the ground I'm down on my knees searching for leads Your eyes are speaking for you now I know what they say I know what they say And though it might be raining down it's perfectly clear perfectly clear
I know you mean

Just please don't end it here just please don't end it here
It's all just a beautiful lie so take it in stride
And though I know it's hard to say Why can't we wait

And if there's nothing to say why can't we wait
Why can't we wait why can't we wait
