

The Grownup Noise "Vampire Love Song"

Visit "Vampire Love Song" on MotoLyrics.com

Sharp teeth, I get just what I want that's Fresh meat, I just love the taste of young blood
I hit the town and paint it red, so artfully
Just like poetry

But one night something strange just happened
I won't lie, I felt emotion
Your touch, it took me somewhere far away
A mystery, now it's me who bleeds

I'm so in love with you
I, might have to bare the sunlight
And I don't care if I just turn
No, I don't care if I just turn to dust

Oh my, I never thought that I'd be
So inclined to love a mortal
Your life has made me question everything
I bargained for

And I know, that you love another
But can't you see, my heart is beating
If only, I could have met you at a time when I was alive
To look at you through my real eyes.

I'm so in love with you
I, might have to bare the sunlight
Gone are the days of moonlight
And I don't care if I just turn
No, I don't care if I just turn to dust

I'm so in love with you
I, might have to bare the sunlight
Gone are the days of moonlight
And I don't care if I just turn
No, I don't care if I just turn
No, I hope that I just turn to dust

Visit The Grownup Noise page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.

