Despite the distance
I know that we'll be making it
Although the miles are long
Your voice is keeping me on Top of things, I've always had to struggle with, like
Let downs and let goes, so take me
Let's go

I never knew love until I met you
I never knew what it was
But now that you're gone, I can understand
What it feels like, what it feels like
I never knew love until I met you
I never knew what it was
But now that you're gone I can understand
What it feels like, what it feels like to believe

Despite the distance
You know that my heart beats for you
No matter what you did wrong
My love for you is still strong
Strong enough to last so many miles
Every single day, I wish you could have come with me

And it sucks to know that we're still separate
But baby, I'm on my way
You know you've just gotta wait
Like they say
That if you really love something
Just let it go
It'll find it's way back home

I never knew love until I met you
I never knew what it was
But now that you're gone, I can understand
What it feels like, what it feels like
I never knew love until I met you
I never knew what it was
But now that you're gone I can understand
What it feels like, what it feels like to believe
