Well, if you're the travelling type
And you wanna visit the emergency room
Cause I mean you're gonna need stitches
Cause I'm gonna gonna build you up...
Just to break you in two

You think you got a hold on this...
I think you should get a hold of a nurse
For this heart attack

The fondest memory you'll have's a picture of my back
On my schedule, I'm behind, so quit takin' up my time
Oh yeah, plenty more to crack
Tell all your sisters and her friends
Publicize my crime so I can spread illness, this heart attack

I think you thought we were in love
My love you love has had enough
Go on, pop your pills while I lie to you, oh
Watch your back, heart attack!

Every kiss was a stab and your lips let down their guard
You were holding up two hearts with a joker and continued the game,
Why is love so hard?
Oh shut your mouth, you always talked too much Save it for that moment when you're fallin' and you can't get up
From this heart attack
