All at once these voices called my name
Echoing the damage in my brain

Get your life together, boy
She can't be your only joy
Put your mind on something else
Be a man, control yourself

You must love her less
You must need her less
You must toss away
Your only hope of happiness

No I don't expect your sympathy
Only one who's feeling this is me

When you'd die for someone else
Then you really know yourself
Fuel to fight the pressure show
Stronger than when on your own

You must love her less
You must need her less
You must toss away
Your only hope of happiness

Stop crying

Help me love you less
Help me need you less
Help me kill the only thing
I ever wanted to protect

Help me love you less
Help me need you less
Help me kill the only thing
I wanted to protect

No one understands
No one understands
You wouldn't understand
