"Bleeding Memory"

Everyday ends up the same find another way to forget you Apathy takes a hold of me as I'm remembering why you left me Tension gets the best of me trying to overcome these memories that poison Haunting thoughts of deception from the fabric of our pass into descension
I'm controlled by sadness Imaginary lapses of false happiness sometimes interrupt my misery
And distract me from my concentrated anger Bleed, Bleeding through my memory of you Fuck it all take my heart away set my soul afire fuckin' bleed me
Erase the day I was given life let it fade away I can feel
you
Stagnant are the memories preying upon me as my hands begin to tremble Take my hand
Walk with me through this endless fix of scaring tears Remember, to smile is to have a momentary relief of pain
No one time did I hesitate to deliver an ample amount of loyalty and trust That was more then what you ever deserved in the world that you portrayed A bleeding memory of you Bleed my heart of your eyes - erase the day I was given life
