She cryin' runnin' fallin' she's scared and lost with nothing. She's done with the fix the politics and she's ready to give up and call it quits. She's searching reaching looking for something that makes her life worth more.
But
she's been searching for so long.

And when your heart stops beating I will try to save you.
But I can only do so do so much. People they tell me that I should try to blame you. But I won't let you slip away.
No-so!

Come on come on come on now baby. You're fallin' apart no I'm not crazy I just want to save your heart. So give me give me give me give me your hand. And let me take you away from this torturous land.
She walks like she carries the whole world on her shoulders. And every step she takes is a picture of what she creates. Darkness fills her mind with words that hurt and leave her cold inside. She's weighted down by her crimes.

This is not a question but more like a confession. Do you still wear that dress? That's covered in, black and white skulls. But its alright everyone has to fall.
