She walks in as I'm walking out
Should I try this once again?
Should I try this once again?
And as we kiss, I remember how it felt
To fall in love when I was young
But I can't get that feeling back

She's got a killers grin on
Maybe you're just too jaded now
My god a killers waiting
Don't say you care
I know you don't

And I won't leave, I'll try and pretend
And I won't leave, I'll try and pretend
'Cause we've got nothing to lose
But time so here we go again

I know you've been patient
But I can't stop from thinking
That when this ends, we'll be the worst of enemies
(And know)
And as she leaves, I remember times we've shared
Can we try this once again?
'Cause baby, you're just what I need

And as the night grows cold
Well, hold me tight, don't let me go
We got it all wrong
But baby, we'll figure it out
And to say that you care
I know you don't

And I won't leave I'll try and pretend
And I won't leave I'll try and pretend
'Cause we've got nothing to lose
But time so here we go again

Dry your eyes
(Dry your eyes)
Stay calm
(Stay calm)

I feel so alone
And I do know
(I know that I was wrong)

This is done now
(I know that I was wrong)
And we'll try again
(I know that I was wrong)
Until the bitter end
Yeah

But we never made it
Like a bad dream I can't get out
But I can't take another second without you here
We tried time and over as it died
Maybe I'm the one to blame here
Girl, just know I love you too
And now we're done
So here we go again

I know that I was wrong
I know that I was wrong
I know that I was wrong
I know that I was wrong
I know that I was wrong
