You're her blood and identity, (
You're what she lives for must it seem.(
The ships are sailing further apart, (
Search and rescue are about to depart.((

He cast away and I see her smile,
(tears roll down.

((You're name is written on the shore.(
Is it truly there or just a false remark?(
The rapids are getting stronger, I can't withstand, (
But your name remains in the sand.((

He cast away and I see her smile, (
Tears roll down.((
He cast away and I see her smile, (
Tears roll down.
