

The Honesty

"On The Line"

You're constantly reminding me
By the actions you take,
The purpose to why we live,
The sacrifices your willing to make.
You put everything on the line,
I'm not the first you satisfied,
I'm not the first you satisfied.
Let me show you around this town tonight.

Follow me, it's now my turn to lead,
Together we fight mischief oh so easily.

You seem to fix all these mistakes,
Alter what you think,
What you need to be okay.
You figured it out all along,
This is life and love is what we're made for,
What we're made for.

Follow me, it's now my turn to lead,
Together we fight mischief oh so easily.
Come with me, it's now my turn to lead,
Together we fight mischief oh so easily.

All that I know is all I see,
Your worthy of more than I'll ever be.
