She's lost in the dark
She thinks she's been enlightened
From the schoolhouse in the park
Her house is full of mirrors
She can't really seem to look at herself

She lives on Narcissus Road
Where the streets are paved with gold
Where everybody loves you
Everybody loves you

She's beautiful, but that's fading fast
And her clock is ticking loud and fast
She's so unaware of the things she does
She reminds me of that replicant
That did not know what she was

She lives on Narcissus Road
Where the streets are paved with gold
Where everybody loves you
Everybody loves you

She lives on Narcissus Road
No-one dies or ever gets old
Everybody loves you
Everybody loves you

Twinkle twinkle little star
Who the fuck d'you think you are?

She lives on Narcissus Road
Where the streets are paved with gold
Where everybody loves you
Everybody loves you

She lives on Narcissus Road
No-one dies or ever gets old
Everybody loves you
Everybody loves you

Everybody loves you
Everybody loves you
