Don't fight it, look at it, another setback to slow you Another day in vain, passing on, move along, another dream is gone
You see that's how it goes in the game
We play only to learn and train for our next mistake
To heal and break, growing strong in the wake Seems like in no one I can rely Don't you tell me I won't survive
Thousands tell you that you won't survive
I'll survive, I'll survive
You're not my surrender
You'll find no surrender here Tamed by a siren song, tempted to belong to an ordinary life
Ask yourself why
Don't you let them pave your way, don't you play their game
Don't you pray for rain, look inside at what you'll find
It's all in your mind, regain an honor disappearing
It's a power disappearing, a birthright disappearing
It's a call to save what remains
Fools regret until they die, forgive yourself back to life
