I'm running out of patience,
but then you say,
it's over baby wait, so go on,
we both need you to say this to us,
You are the only one for me.

Every night you stay with her.
I pretend it doesn't hurt cause the hardest part of this is wondering when
All this ends
It's like it's getting worse
She'll always have had you first
You know the hardest part of this is wanting
The two of us to begin

Every single night I wait for you,
every single day you say it's through,
You promised me tonight at 2 am, that it's happening
You gotta tell her what she needs to hear
You gotta be the one to make it clear
You promised me tonight at 2 am, that it's happening
That it's happening
That it's happening
That it's happening

I'm so anxious that I'm shaken We're so close to being together Boy I have almost given up on this before, but it's worth it, if it is forever

Every night you stay with her
I pretend it doesn't hurt
cause the hardest part of this is wondering when
All this ends
It's like it's getting worse

She'll always have had you first
You know the hardest part of this is wanting
The two of us to begin.

Every single night I wait for you,
every single day you say it's through,
You're gonna tell her what she needs to hear
You gotta be the one to make it clear
You promised me tonight at 2 am, that it's happening.
That it's happening
That it's happening
That it's happening

Like winter turns to summer, like night turns into day
Been missing you like the desert needs the rain
The hardest part of this is wanting
The two of us to begin.

Every single night I wait for you,
every single day you say it's through,
You promised me tonight at 2 am, that it's happening
You gotta tell her what she needs to hear
You gotta be the one to make it clear
You promised me tonight at 2 am, that it's happening.
You gotta make it happen, baby, yeah.
