God bless the free market economy
And its peace and prosperity
If problems will rise, they can be blamed
On those who stand in the way of progress

Oh lord
Here comes another round of the global market myth
Oh lord
Collecting benefits to the already rich, with a rod of iron

A media controlled because it relies
On advertising
So they must comply, they must comply
And the reproduction of lies continues

This is a one way trip
There is no balance of forces
Only a single snowballing force that will destroy us all
