If I could take the time back, I would rewind back
The day my cousin asked my gran where his mom at
I want my aunt back and my dad too
They killed Shawty and Diddy that was sad too
I caught a couple homies off, shit I had to Chained on me for the money, look what cash do
Thinking I'm rich, counting my money
Worrying bout mine, they should be counting it for me
I'm just adding up this paper subtracting my homies Shawty be screaming how she love me, while bouncing it on me
She really don't like me, she just attracted to money
She chasing a benjy, saw that on the femy?
I'm just lowering my glock, hoping that it defend me
When them haters try to kill me I'm clapping the semi
She giving me head, I'm grabbing a remmy
I just want a B, like the back of the Bentley
Niggas say I'm Hollywood when I'm Hollywood Put my life on the line for them, shit I probably would Switch that to probably woulda, I mean probably coulda,
Put it on probably shoulda, but ain't nobody realer
Niggas is so fake, I did my ID check
Couple 100 with me, aint met nobody yet
I treat them like the beat, cuz ima body that Moving throughout these streets, that's where you find me at
I ain't gonna lie, I saved my life
Dream got me running round, like it made my life
I ain't met a bitch yet, I would've made my wife
And I ain't met a nigga yet I would've made my right

Hand, damn, never take a stand
Never tell them boys information on your fam
Never tell them n-ggas information where you stand Cuz they change like the weather, when you wait where you land
With that hammer in your face, answer for the cake
Ever seen one of your dogs transform into a snake
Ever seen one of those snakes transform into a rat
I be running through the jungle I could tell you bout that I could tell you bout the drought, when the work got snapped

Whole hood started robbing, everybody got strapped
Whole team was just broke, everybody got back
I was selling sour diesel, everybody got crack
It's obvious I'm hot, it's obvious you cold
Presidential on my wrist, and it's obvious its gold Whole hood got your statements it's obvious you told
Like a Lil Wayne album it's obvious you sold
I'm on some shit, running neck and neck with Vick Trying to bring my city back, take us to where we never
I'm just in the studio working like a Mexican
And they tell me I'm a rookie doing it like a veteran
Yea, big dreams small city
Trying to come up on me, but would you fall with me?
Would you clutch that hammer and bust it all with me?
Hundred miles an hour running from the law with me?
I ain't think so, I just blink slow
Million ways to get this money but we think snow
Every time I see a chick I just think hoe
And every time I meet a nigga I just think Po'
