Some say you're too easy
'Cause you've stayed by my side
I'm the one who keeps you happy
And you keep me satisfied

Just be my lady
That'll be enough for me
And it won't matter, baby
What your friends think they see

Who loves you better
Better than I do, I do
Who knows you better
Better than I do, than I do

Everyday that passes by
Every night I spend with you
Puzzled by the things you try
Saddened by the things you do

He can say sweet things to you
And promise you security
I find strength in loving you
Don't fight my love, give in to me

Who loves you better
Better than I do, I do
Who knows you better
Better than I do, than I do

You know you can't live your life
Doin' what the others do
Always takin' their advice
May not be the best for you

So just be my lady
And that'll be enough for me
And it won't matter, baby
What your friends think, they see

Who loves you better
Better than I do, I do

Who knows you better
Better than I do, than I do
