I don't know just where I've been but understand, it was different then I'm a changed, not estranged new man

No need to remind me of what I've done
The repercussions shine like a new day sun
So bright, is the light of truth

Well, as long as we feel like talking,
Why don't we talk about something new

You've got yourself a while,
So sit down and stop being a child and face what it is you've done

You remember everything but this,
How peculiar, if I do insist So weak, is your alibi

Well, as long as we feel like talking,
Why don't we make good use of our time

You're no stranger to troubled times, You're the reason I felt inclined to do what it is I've done

Excuses never make a man, they only cover up future plans So walk while you're ahead

Well, as long as we feel like talking and never lose step of our walking We can leave our troubles, leave our troubles behind

Why don't we leave our troubles leave or troubles behind
