we were out having a good time running through the cemetery we hopped on a grave and we flipped it with the caretaker's digging equipment yeah, we were all having a great time we kicked through a floral arrangement spraypaint my tag on a gravestone and smash a mausoleum window now we're hearing voices in our heads we went to the doctor and the doctor said:

"we're gonna have to put you on something something something something..."

now that we're on medications and take assistance from the nation our folks say we're all being stupid maybe we're just losing fluids but, still we're hearing voices in our heads we went to the doctor and we did what he said but still we're hearing voices going:

"something something something something..."

i wanna shake the hand of the man lemme shake the hand of the man
