Bide your time, take it easy
Take what you need while you can
Tell her your feelings because she's leaving
Don't spend your life a lonely man

I'm looking forward to a heartache
At least I know I'm still alive
Why are my pictures all so empty
And all my memories black and white

Oh, it came without a warning
Oh, I didn't see
Oh, look at me this morning
Oh, just look at me

Down the road and walking backwards
Growing older with the trees
Through the rain I'm only thinking on
An empty pathway with wasted dreams

Oh, it came without a warning
Oh, I didn't see
Oh, look at me this morning
Oh, just look at me
