Why won't anyone listen to me
Why can't I see things clearly
She sees things in a different reality
She's driving me crazy
Her innocent beauty
I can't deny

Sara says things have just become far too intense
I need some time alone all by myself
To try and figure things out

I love her, she's my best friend
So why do we fight without end
We know just what to say
She breaks my heart
We'll fall in love again
Then fall apart

Sara says things have just become far too intense
I need some time alone all by myself
To try and figure things out

I was really trying to protect her from herself
I really wanted to convince her there's no one else

Were we meant to be together
Can't it just be black and white
How can something so wrong be so right
She comes to me
And makes me realize
My dreams

Sara says things have just become far too intense
I need some time alone all by myself
To try and figure things out
