I'm with a girl they say doesn't treat me kind
I'm in denial I turn my head and cry
You're with another
How could I change your mind
It's only love and they say love is blind

She never listens to what I had to say
Maybe tomorrow love will find a way
I'm starting to think about you
And I know I shouldn't do
But I'm starting to think about you everyday

How do I tell her I'm just not happy here
I keep on trying to love and to hold her near
I love her so much she doesn't seem to care
Now my heart's longing for someone else to share

She never listens to what I had to say
Somebody told me she's gone away
I'm starting to think about you
And I know I shouldn't do
But I'm starting to think about you everyday

She never listens to what I had to say
She never listens can't wait another day

Starting to think about you
And I know I shouldn't do
But I'm starting to think about you everyday

I'm starting to think about you
And I know this can't be true
But I'm starting to think about you
Starting to think about you
Starting to think about you
Everyday
