words like butterflies crash into my eyes a kamakize flight right into my eyes Words like razor blades slice into my veins Exposing all my pain all that's left of me

When this shade of, this shade of sadness little dead will dance again
When this shade of, when this shade of sadness
little dead will dance again

Now I'm gone, shove me away
There's nothing more, or left to say
And I had to live, only to die
And I always die

Now I'm gone, shove me away
I had to live, only to die
And I always die, I always die
