Intro

Don't Drop another tear in vain
You know you deserve much more
Don't drop another tear in vain
You know you deserve much more

1st verse

I can understand you fell in love with pretty cars and V.I.P spot on every NY city bar and Moving from the projects all the way to living large
But that's the reason why you let him treat you like a punching bag
Huh?
Every other day he be coming home drunk
Yelling at, you cursing at you
In front of your son
So hell is a place called home
But why you still with him
If you know that's not love
Another punch, another kick, another scar in your skin
Another tear, another scream, another wound that can't heal
Still
I can understand feel
But you're a queen, you deserve more than this

Chorus

Don't drop another tear in vain
You know you deserve much
(So much more)
Don't drop another tear in vain
You know you deserve much more
(Deserve much more)
Don't drop another tear in vain
You know you deserve much
(So much more)

2nd Verse

I can understand your situation
Insecurity, peer pressure, there's no question
I see sadness in your expression
But you gotta hold on and be strong for your son your biggest treasure
I can tell by your confessions
That he try to take your life away
In so many occasions
But I just can't wait
Seating here, doing nothing
And see the graveyard turn your destination
No way, no how
I'm gonna let this anymore
Open your eyes girl you deserve many more
But that's something you already know
I know it's hard to let it go
But you just gotta let it go

But I aint gonna let another kid with no mother
