I. Introduction

"November 1, 2552 A.D. The spaceship Evilzone arrives on Nuquledom, a bizarre planet located 600 billion miles, 10 and a half to the equator... sinister forces abide by moonlight as scientists devise plots to detonate human desires and brutality amongst space travelers in the best interest of the solar system... In the darkest regions of dark space, slayers, offenders and alien abductors are taking over Nuquledom, having slain humans and extraterrestrial beings by stalking brains and facing fear amongst the forest areas of this dreadful planet, the torture affecting their fate will be destroyed by sinister extraterrestrial masterminds - eventually destroying the whole planet, not only by chance, but by nuclear annihilation."

"As the solar system evolves into one curiosity-conscious force of death, the end of the world will take place for 3,450 years and 2,700 centuries... forcing Nuquledom on certain areas of attack... for billions of weeks, days and months."

And now, the destruction of Nuquledom begins.

II. 2552 Overture (Instrumental)(20-minute version)

III. Truce Over Agony

Death and darkness are all around this planet Everytime the planet explodes quickly in a future time
For each bullet of plutonium being hit there Evil is the enemy of indestructible decline
For this is the kingdom and we are the troubleshooters
Truce over agony will reign again - forever

Our society changes constantly Torture is within life's hidden reach This time, extraterrestrials turn head around the earth And continue turning them around without terminal breach
For this is the kingdom and we are the troubleshooters
Truce over agony will reign again - forever

IV. The Cranial Clock

"To think, the planet Nuquledom has evolved into an indestructible village
- a world of the extraterrestrial underground where human and other adversaries attack. As I enter the experimental intergalactic development center... known as the National Association for Planetary Research... My partner in planetary combat has completed the development of a experimental space travel adventure policy. He tells me when this scheme happens over the next few years as scientists and mercenaries began the 52,000-week intergalactic battleground. What the sciensts come up with will be the creation of the crani-al clock."

"As the battle for control of the Ideatric System begins in honest, the destruction of Nuquledom is carried out by the forces of evil... the wrath of Nuquledom will be completed in 52,000 weeks; death is surrounded by the inquiries of the National Association for Planetary Research by hard ways - doing everything the interrogators have in their power to survive."

Most often, by the sinister forces of evil in Nuquledom Having performed their random acts of brutal distraction What matters most likely, should they destroy the entire planet of life
No one is safe because of galatiic annihilation

We hold the hands of the cranial clock of evil
What we have done in our battle for semantic freedom

Just stare at the interplanetary man He gives each man a helping hand

Join in the Brotherhood of Mind Control And attack each other by slamming intergalactic windfall

We hold the hands of the cranial clock of evil
What we have done in our battle for semantic freedom
We hold the hands of the cranial clock of evil

Pessimism is falling as time slips away Every space travel is being implanted with a computer chip
The travails of hell is as vital as it is brutal No attention contact within every day

IV. Interrogation Conspiracy Trap

"In June of 2553, the National Association for Planetary Research is embarking on a plan to detonate Nuquledom, as spaceship pilots continue their battle for semantic combat during the first year of the annihilation of the planet."

"For the slayers of human bodies, alien invaders attack the psychological mystique found deep inside the realm of death.
Nuquledom's commander in chief, Rex Nuclear, Ph.D., devises an early warning conspiracy that allows Nuquledom to be blown up piecemeal within the next few decades."

No attention contact
No attention contact
Torture is coming
Torture is coming
Torture is coming
No attention contact
No attention contact
Torture is coming
Torture is coming
Torture is coming

No attention contact
No attention contact
Torture is coming
Torture is coming
Torture is coming
No attention contact
No attention contact
Torture is coming
Torture is coming

Torture is coming

No attention contact

No attention contact

Torture is coming

Torture is coming

Torture is coming

No attention contact

No attention contact

Torture is coming

Torture is coming

Torture is coming

No attention contact

No attention contact

Torture is coming

Torture is coming

Torture is coming

No attention contact

No attention contact

Torture is coming

Torture is coming

Torture is coming

V. Death Kills The Planet

"Even now distraction erupts again as the forces of danger dangle along Nuquledom and the 25 planets of the Ideatric System by detonating all areas of this dreadful community of extraterrestrial life. In the kingdom of indestructiveness, torture, death and greed subside in harmony as the annihilation of Nuquledom continues in the year 2557."

"What happens to visitors when they land on Nuquledom will see a great deal of intergalactic fears and brutal straits of hell. I must oppose the abductor and the scientist battling for control of the Ideatric System; and the fears concerning Nuquledom are in flux as troubleshooters duke their traits of hell as the senses of sight, taste, hearing and touching coexist."

"Let the destruction of the Ideatric System continue..."

Shoot the laws of gravity in space Shoot stars directing interplanetary grace Go after the darkness in the galaxy Destroy all inhuman thought and reveal the alien enemy

Know what space travelers believe in humanity What happens to the planetary straits affecting our society

Shoot back at torture and run all fear around Not for the sake of heart, making for the last guy abound Shoot back at the enemy behind enemy lines Heating up controversy concerning inhuman decline Under attack, slayers have been executed Not by force, but by abduction Face your intergalactic fears, vying to face destruction

VI. 2552 Overture (15-Minute Finale)
