Black veils surround me
Eyes peer within
Flags fly still burning
Tongues stained with sin

And now when I speak
I speak to kill
So please excuse my words
If they crush your will

And everything you had is gone
You can't fly on wings that I tore off
Come crashing don and now you're lost

It's everything

And you were once a face I've loved
Nothing to see here; move along
Come crashing down and now you're lost

This path is beaten
Down through the earth
My body is numb from
Your bitter words

I did the right thing
I did what's best, but i fall asleep to
Dreams coated in regret

And everything you had is gone
You can't fly on wings that I tore off
Come crashing don and now you're lost

It's everything

And you were once a face I've loved
Nothing to see here; move along
Come crashing down and now you're lost
