I feed from the fruit of lairs
Dream of sleep but never grow tired
Waist high in reminders of you

Drown myself like a fish out of water
Tell myself that I'm not but I'm gonna
Track you down and flush you out for the kill

Inside voices are screaming
My eyes never stop bleeding from the sight of you breaking me down

How will I know if you're waiting for me there
Or if you're gone? (...don't leave me here)
How can you sleep at a time like this, wake up
And come with me

We have awakened
(..recite these words to yourself)
'Till you become
(...the ugly truth you know so well)

Pig, pig, that's what I called you
Roll in shit that spews from your mouth
You coward (coward!), you're a fucking fake

Pinch myself realize that I'm dreaming
Wake up sweating and the room's still spinning
Tumble, trip; never stop falling down

Sinking backward into the darkness
Scorched by the flames of regret
Pull me out of the burning fire

How will I know if you're waiting for me there
Or if you're gone? (...don't leave me here)
How can you sleep at a time like this, wake up
And come with me
