I was your girl
Gave you my word
My everything
But you wouldn't see

I had your back
I backed you up
Whatever I did
Was never enough

Just you, you
That's all you ever thought about
You, you
No one matters like you, do
What goes around comes around
You should know by now

Bet you never thought that I could break you
Did you think that I would look the other way
Yeah, you had it all figured out
But tell me whos the one whos crying, now

The palm of your hand
That was your plan
Gave you no time
But now you want mine

It's all about take
You took too much
Nothing inside
I'm all used up (come on)

You, you
Nothing else matters like you, do
You know what i'm talking about don't, you
What goes around, comes around
You should know by now

Bet you never thought that I could break you
Did you think that I would look the other way
Yeah, you had it all figured out
But tell me who's the one who's crying, now

On your one night stand
(Shoulda thought about that)
Said she's just a friend
(Shoulda thought about that)
Are you satisfied now?
(Shoulda thought about that)
Cause you can't hold me down
Not now
I wanna thank you
'Cause now i'm free
I can breathe again
And I'm never coming back to you

Bet you never thought that I could break you
Did you think that I would look the other way

Bet you never thought that I could break you
Did you think that I would look the other way
